Move my arm-chair, faithful Pompey,

In the sunshine, bright and strong,
For this world is lading, Pompey—
Massa won't be with you long;
And I fain would hear the south wind
Bring once more the sound to me,
Of the wavelets softly breaking
On the shores of Tennessee.

"Mournful though the ripples murmur, As they still the story tell, How no vessels float the banner

'And, Pompey, while ole Massa's waiting

That I've loved so long and well. I shall listen to the music,
Dreaming that again I see
Stars and stripes on sloop and shallop
Saiting up the Tennessee.

For Death's last dispatch to come,
If that exiled, starry banner
Should come proudly sailing home,
You shall greet it, slave no longer;
Voice and hand shall both be Iree
That shout and point to Union colors
On the waves of Tennesse."

"Massa's berry kind to Pompey; But old darkey's happy here, Where he's tended corn and cotton

For 'ese many a long gone year.
Over yender Missis' sleeping—
No one tends her grave like me;
Mebbe she would miss the flowers
She used to love in Tennessee.

"Pears like she was watching Massa,

If Pompey should beside him stay; Mebbe she'd remember better How for him she used to pray;

Telling him that way up yender White as snow his soul would be, If he served the Lord of Heaven
